If you would like to work with the world's biggest brands and most progressive organisations, alongside a team of experienced, passionate and fun sustainability experts and business consultants then this may be the role for you.

We are currently looking for an Environmental Specialist for our London office, but can promise that you will work across the service portfolio, with colleagues from all of our offices and global clients to enhance your exposure whilst maintaining your own subject matter expertise.

This role will be a perfect fit if:

- You have a degree / masters in environmental management, sustainability or a related discipline and 2 to 3 years' experience analysing, advising on or implementing environmental initiatives in a professional context
- You have strong quantitative and analytical skills, and experience writing reports in order to communicate technical information to non-technical audiences
- You are a team player and can manage and deliver projects on time and on budget, with minimal supervision
- You want to help businesses understand their environmental impact as well as improve and communicate their performance to stakeholders
- You are a quick learner and enjoy adapting to new challenges and developing new skills
- You are enthusiastic about supporting the development of new business opportunities

You will have the opportunity to work alongside our existing team members on a variety of projects internationally, carrying out research and analysis, working directly with clients and contributing to the development of new business opportunities.

The successful candidate will have a positive, entrepreneurial approach with enthusiasm for team working and a passion for learning. You must be client focused and able to develop new business.

To apply please send your CV and a covering letter outlining:

- Your main areas of experience and expertise with specific focus on environmental issues as well as corporate responsibility and sustainability
- Your current salary / expectation
- How you meet the person specification above
- Why you are the best candidate for the job
- Confirm that you are eligible to work in the UK. Location: London.
